

Nicolás Rodríguez

International Project Developer Ruta N Colombia

International projects developer at Ruta N, the innovation and business center of Medellín, Colombia. Industrial Engineer with more than 5 years of experience working in sales, projects development, international business and foreign investment. His main role in Ruta N is to support companies located in the United States and Canada expanding to the Latin American market and connecting them with the science, technology and innovation ecosystem of the region.